

Identification of common gases – GCSE Chemistry1. No.3.2

Carbon dioxide gas is produced in the reaction between hydrochloric acid and calcium carbonate.

Which test is used to identify carbon dioxide gas?

[1 mark]

Tick (✓) one box.

A burning splint pops

☐

A glowing splint relights

☐

Damp litmus paper is bleached

☐

Limewater turns milky

☐